

HAPPENINGS IN NOVEMBER

Recently, we took in a woman who struggled all her life with drug addictions. It was a difficult yet glorious three weeks we spent with her. During this time she came to know the Lord. Although she had many struggles we saw her have many victories as she clung to Christ. We witnessed her overcoming by yielding and clinging to Him. For three weeks she was free from all substances and it was only by His grace that this was possible. We saw Christ strengthen and deliver her. When she left, our hearts really sank.

One thing we have come to realize in helping addicts is that we are all addicts. We also stumble and fall before the Lord and though some of our failures are more cloaked than others we all stand before God by grace and with many areas in which we have yet to overcome. For some, like this lady, who were born into a world of turmoil and misfortune, their struggles may seem more desperate, and in some ways this is true. But to those of us who have been given much, much more will be required and we stand no more holy in God's sight. We are all sinners, addicts to our own desires. Our hearts therefore go out to ones such as her. We feel privileged to have been a part of her life, especially the 'free' part. Our hope and prayer is that rather than an end this will somehow be a beginning for her.

Prayer Requests

- For our first graduate who is now back with her family, that she will continue to be nourished and strengthened in her faith
- For the student that is more than halfway through her discipleship time here, that God would continue to work deeply in her life to bring further healing. That He would be arranging and providing for her future.
- For the addict who was here for a short time, that God would continue to move in and through her life and give her victory and freedom from bondage. That she would know and experience that 'greater is He who is in her than he that is in the world'.
- Many of you know that we had two children visit us this summer vacation. Their mother has applied to come as a student to our program at the end of December. Pray that He would arrange her coming and even now be preparing her heart.
